MAYOR WILL ACT AS POLICE JUDGE

WILL RECEIVE $1 A YEAR, FEES GOING INTO TREASURY.

TO MEET AGAIN TUESDAY

Only One Fine in April and Two Fires—Doctor Dean Retained As City Physician

Mayor F. P. Robinson today joins the ranks of dollar-a-year men. This is his salary in the new office of police judge created by passage of an ordinance at the meeting of the city council last night, which makes the mayor ex-officio police judge and charges him with passing on all offenses or violations of any ordinance of the city.

The same costs will be collected in police court cases, but the fees which have heretofore gone to Warren L. Johnson for acting as judge will be paid into the general revenues of the city. The west room in the basement of the library will be fitted up as a courtroom. In the absence of the mayor, the vice-president of the council will act as police judge.

Councilman C. F. Remus was not present at the meeting of the council last night, and only routine business was considered. Bills were allowed and reports of the police judge, fire chief and librarian received.

There was only one police court conviction in April, according to Police Judge Johnson's report. This resulted in a fine of $2 for picketing a horse in the street.

Fire Chief Burt Rowley reported only two fires, one of which was that in the Robinson Building. The other alarm answered was when Dr. Frank Wallis' automobile caught fire on Normal Drive.

The appointment of Ed Wallace as night policeman was approved.

Dr. L. E. Dean was retained as city physician and health officer.

The entire council is expected to be present at an adjourned meeting next Tuesday night, when more important matters will be considered.

Mr. Adams is a member of the State Board of Agriculture and is a representative of the Poland-China Journal of Kansas City.

The track was dragged again this morning and is in excellent shape. Other necessary work is being done on the jumping pits and on the tennis courts.

The Chamber of Commerce entertainment committee has completed its final preparations to greet the young guests, take them in cars to headquarters in Recital Hall and provide them with room and meals while they are here. Large cards to be placed in windows of stores and smaller ones for automobiles and homes are being printed today with this inscription:

PI EPSILON PI HAS A "LITTLE SISTER"

ADOPTS LITTLE GIRL WHOSE HOME LIFE HAS BEEN BROKEN

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED

Elizabeth Leet Is Worthy Matron; Mabel Cook, Vice-President; And Mary Condon, Treasurer

Miss Elizabeth Leet was elected worthy matron of the Pi Epsilon Pi Sorority at the monthly business meeting held last night at the home of Miss Mary Wooldridge on West Third street. Miss Mabel Cook was chosen junior matron, Miss Mary Margaret Richey, secretary; Miss Mary Condon, treasurer; and Miss Alice Peery, historian. The outgoing officials are Miss Mary Wooldridge, worthy matron; Miss Alice Peery, junior matron; Miss Marie Wright, secretary and Miss Abbie Bel Colden, treasurer.

A constitution and by-laws which was submitted by the committee in charge was adopted by the members with several amendments. The aims of the sorority as designated in the constitution are the building of friendship, to asstist in charity work in Maryville, and at some future time to become affiliated with a national sorority.

The members of the sorority have been active in charity work all during the winter. A little girl, Crystal Reynolds, whose mother is dead and whose sister was burned to death this last winter, has been adopted by the sorority. Not only have the girls purchased her clothing during the winter but are taking an active interest in her school work and are trying to give her the advantages received by other children. Plans were made at the meeting last night for each sorority sister to receive the little girl in her home sometime during the summer and to assist her in making up school work. She will be sent through high school, and if possible through college.

The charity fund of the Pi Epsilon Pi Sorority was started when a person, supposedly a resident of Maryville, promised to give the society $50 semi-annually for an indefinite number of years for charity work, and later other contributions were received. The name of the benefactor of the sorority is known to only one girl of the society, which is in accordance with the wishes of the unknown friend.

Other business matters attended to at the meeting last night was the appointment of a year book committee, the adopting of a resolution that the social committee for the month of April, which did not act, shall continue and plan an entertainment for the members in addition to the one planned by the May committee, plans were also discussed for a camping trip to be taken during the month of August, but no definite steps were

DEMOCRAT-FORUM MAKES GOOD FIGHT

TEMPORARILY DENIED MEMBERSHIP IN ASSOCIATED PRESS

NOW NATIONALLY KNOWN

Needed Four-Fifths Majority to Overcome St. Joseph News-Press Protest—Got Two-Thirds

The Democrat-Forum was denied a membership in the Associated Press at the annual meeting of the association held in New York last week on account of the protest made by Louis T. Golding, publisher of the St. Joseph News-Press, who is a member of the association. This paper was represented by Editor W. C. Van-Cleve of Moberly, who is also a member of the association.

The board of directors unanimously recommended to the association that a membership be granted to the Democrat-Forum. The board, however, can not grant a membership over the protest of a member having a protest right and it requires a four-fifths majority to win in the general meeting. The Democrat-Forum received 230 votes and the opposition got somthing over 100 votes.

The case, however, caused a great deal of discussion. The stand taken by the News-Press was very unpopular with other members, many of whom pledged their support to Golding before they learned the facts in the case but who said they would hereafter vote to admit the Democrat Forum to membership. Many of the opposing votes were proxies given to the St. Joseph editor by members who did not attend the meeting

The Associated Press is the premier news service of America. It is world-wide, cooperative news-gathering organization, in which only one newspaper in each city can hold membership. It owns thousands of miles of telegraph lines, has representatives in practically every town and village, and bureaus in all foreign capitals and cities of any importance.

The fight which the Democrat-Forum is waging to gain admission to the Associated Press and thus give its patrons the rapid and authentic news service which ordinarily goes only to papers in the larger cities will be renewed at the meeting of the Association, when there is every assurance that it will be successful.

The following article is from the Editor & Publisher of New York, a nationally circulated magazine:

The members also upheld the protest of Louis Golding of the St. Joseph (Mo.) News-Press against the administration to the A. P. ranks of the Maryville (Mo.) Democrat-Forum, although Maryville is 45 miles from St. Joseph and does not compete in the latter city. The News-Press contended that Maryville was included in its rural circulation territory and that the admission of it and other newspapers in that territory to Associated Press membership would constitute an invasion of the News-Press contractual right to protection.

Other members from the same state spoke in favor of admission of the Maryville newspaper, and President Noyes during the discussion introduced a resolution drafted by the board of directors to the effect that it was the sense of the Associated Press membership that the right of protest by a member should be limited to a radius of 12 miles from the point of publication.

Several members opposed this motion, declaring that it involved a surrender of their rights under their membership contracts with the association, and it was defeated by a heavy vote. In support of the resolution it was urged that such limitation of the protest right would make possible the representation of the Associated Press where it is not now directly covered and that the enactment of the rule would affect directly only four A. P. newspapers, which have no competition with Associated Press memberhsip within the radius named in the resolution.

CLIVE GRAVES IS MADE STEWARD OF HOSPITAL NO. 2

Succeeds J. M. Enis, Who Resigned To Avoid Breaking Up His Home At Clyde

Clive C. Graves of Maryville was appointed steward of the State Hospital No. 2 at St. Joseph at a meeting of the board of managers of that institution held today to succeed James M. Enis of Clyde, who resigned Mr. Graves will take charge of his position within the next few days.

The position pays $1800 in addition providing living quarters as well as paying all other expenses. Mr. Graves is well qualified for the position. He will have charge of the buying as well as managing the 900 acre farm of that institution.

Mr. Enis, who has been steward at the hospital for the past month, resigned on account of being away from Clyde and breaking up his home there. Mrs. George Graham, 90 years old, the mother of Mrs. Enis, has made her home with the Enis' for many years, and it was to remain with them that Mr. Enis gave up his work at the hospital.

W. C. Pierce of Maryville, a member of the board, attended the meeting today.

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN NODAWAY COUNTY

UP TO THE SENATE.

The matter of protecting its membership from an infusion of corrupt political morals and the malign influences of the beneficiaries of fraud is once more with the United States Senate. The Supreme Court of the United States has reversed the decision of the lower Federal Court which found Truman H. Newberry of Michigan guilty of violating the Federal statute against undue expenditures in nominations and elections. Mr. Newberry, whose agents conducted one of the boldest and most flagrant campaigns of political debauchery in the history of the country, was found guilty and sentenced to serve two years in the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $10,000.

Judging from the way money was spent in his campaign for nomination and election, the fine would not cause any inconvenience but the penitentiary sentence hurt his feelings. The Supreme Court has reversed the findings of the lower court on the ground that some of its instructions were improper and that the Corrupt Practice Act, passed prior to the constitutional amendment authorizing the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people, is not constitutional.

The Court concludes that Congress at that time had no authority to undertake to regulate primary elections and that this power rests wholly in the states. One of the Justices reserves his judgment as to whether the Congress has now such right since the adoption of the amendment relating to the election of senators and it is probable that, if Congress should pass another corrupt practice act of similar import now, it would be within its rights.

But, while Mr. Newberry is relieved of the fine and penitentiary sentence, he is not relieved of the established facts of a grossly unreasonable and illegal use of money in his campaign. The Federal statute forbade the use of more than $10,000 in a senatorial election and the treasurer of Mr. Newberry's campaign committee acknowledged the expenditure of $176,568.08, an amount that his opponents claimed did not approach the real amount spent, but a dignified sum, nevertheless.

The state of Michigan has been subject to shameful political debauchery in recent years and the decent elements of the state have been trying to clean house with but little success. The case was proved against Mr. Newberry and the unconstitutionality of the law under which he was convicted does not change the facts proved in the trial. The Court calls the particular attention of the Senate to the fact that it may still be the judge of its own membership and has thus power "to protect itself against corruption, fraud and other malign influences."

What the Senate will do remains to be seen. It has generally been slow to avail itself of its constitutional right because of party considerations and, when it has done so, it has generally allowed the accused party to serve practically his full term before coming to a final conclusion.

Many years ago, Thaddeus Stevens enunciated the doctrine of protecting "our own damned rascals" and it has been a hard thing to get away from. An investigation begun by the Senate is still unfinished and it is up to the Senate now to do what the courts can not do. Unless the Senate does take a definite and positive stand the millionaire candidate is on safe ground and the doors of Congress are open aside from such restraining influences as the states can exert.

Mrs. Belle DeMott and Miss Faye Sprecher went to St. Joseph this morning.

Buy Your Coal Direct From Mine--Big Saving

The high cost of coal is a thing of the past! At least, there are no complaints on this account—since the removal of government restrictions—among those who have learned how to buy coal. The way to buy coal is to get it direct from the mines. This saves several middlemen's profits. It saves hauling expenses. Anyone can now buy at mine prices, whether a carload buyer or one who uses only ten or fifteen tons a year. This has been made possible through a plan evolved by a large and old-established concern, THE BERNICE COAL COMPANY, with main offices at 559 Como Building, Chicago.

This company has thousands of customers in various sections of the United States who receive all of their coal direct from the mines. These customers are pleased not only because of the many dollars they save every year, but also because of the quality of coal they are getting. Many write that they never before had coal that makes so little dust, that burns so well, leaving so few ashes. If you are a coal user—whether you use hard or soft coal, much or little—it will be greatly to your advantage to write the Bernice Coal Co. at once for prices, stating kind and quantity of coal you use.

PRESIDENT HARDING STANDS "PAT" ON MADISON

No Change in President's Attitude, Washington Understands—Spencer Course is Doubtful

The Kansas City Star contained in their yesterdays paper the following:

Washington, May 4, — President Harding, it is understood in well informed quarters here, insists on naming C. C. Madison as district attorney at Kansas City. Harry M. Daugherty attorney general, likewise is standing pat behind E. Mont Reily. Madison's chief backer and recognition of the old guard faction of Republicans in Missouri by a reappointment of Madison is likely to be forthcoming very shortly.

Senator Spencer Hasn't Changed

Senator Spencer of Missouri, who has been opposing Madison's appointment, called the White House this morning and had an extended conference with the President. It is understood the district attorneyship was the chief matter discussed. When he left Senator Spencer said he would have nothing to say on the matter at all.

Senator Spencer, it is known, has not changed his previous position, that he was not for Madison.

He believes, however, that President will send in Madison's name as district attorney again largely as a "personal" appointment, recognizing Spencer's objections, but asking confirmation as a personal proposition. The president, it is said by Republicans here, takes the position that Madison had been a personal supporter, was vouched for by close personal friends and that no valid question of his character or fitness for the position had been raised, so there was no reason to withdraw the previous presidential indorsement.

Spencer's Course Is Doubtful.

If, as is expected, the President makes a reappointment on this basis, it is regarded as doubtful what course Spencer will take, whether he will block the confirmation and continue the present Democratic holder in office or simply vote against confirmation and let it go through as a personal matter of President Harding's. In the first event, there likely would be a continuous controversy over Missouri patronage; in the second, by permitting Madison's confirmation, the administration likely would recognize the senator on future matters of Missouri patronage. The second course, some believe, is the one the senator would be more likely to pursue.

Reily Walter S. Dickey, Jacob L. Babler and others have insisted on Madison without a compromise. Reily has been chief backer, concentrating all his efforts and asking for the Madison appointment and only that. There is no question that the sympathies of the administration are with the Dickey-Babler-Reily faction.

SUFFERED SEVEN LONG YEARS

Finally Relieved by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Ravenswood, W. Va.—"For seven long years I suffered from a female trouble and inflammation so that I was not able to do my housework. I consulted several doctors but none seemed to give me relief. I read in a paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound so I decided to try it, and before the first bottle was gone I found great relief so I continued using it until I had taken eight bottles. Now I am very well and can do my own housework. I can gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine to suffering women."—Mrs. BERTHA LIERING, R. F. D., Ravenswood, W. Va.

The ordinary day of most housewives is a ceaseless treadmill of washing, cooking, cleaning, mending, sweeping, dusting and caring for little ones. How much harder the tasks when some derangement of the system causes headaches, backaches, bearing-down pains and nervousness. Every such woman should profit by Mrs. Liering's experience. Remember this, for over forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been restoring health.

GO NO FARTHER.
The Evidence Is at Your Door.

Maryville proof is what you want and the statement of this highly repected resident will banish all doubt:

D. S. Angell, 414 East Third St., Maryville, Says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills several years ago and I consider them a great remedy. From heavy work on the farm my kidney action grew very irregular and troubled me to a great extent. Sharp shooting pains caught me in the small of my back and my back became very lame and sore. My work was a large ordeal for me. I only used a few boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills for this trouble and they completely cured me of the attack. I use Doan's occasionally when I am not feeling right and my kidneys are not acting regularly due to a cold and they always bring relief. I highly recommend them to anyone with kidney complaint."

To Hold Yeomen Picnic.

The Yeomen and their friends of Northwest Missouri and Southern Iowa will hold a picnic at the Bethany fair grounds on Sunday, July 24. It is expected to have some of the best speakers in the Yeomen order at this picnic. A. D. Strong represented the Maryville lodge at a committee meeting held at Albany recently where plans were made for the picnic.

Reginald Heber (1783-1826), the author of "From Greenland's Icy Mountains," died the same year as did Presidents John Adams and Thomas Jefferson.

The Brooklyn Bridge, which was begun in January 3, 1870, was opened May 24, 1883, cost $25,095,577.

EUREKAN TEAMS GO INTO COLLEGE TENNIS FINALS

Eliminate Philomatheans In Second Round Play This Morning—Good Tennis Shown.

The second round of the semifinals of the intersociety tennis tournament was held this morning between the Eurekans, represented by Eldon Steiger and Wave Hulet, and the Philomatheans, represented by Ora McPherron and Hazel Hall. The former won the first two sets 6-3, 6-2. Although the playing was not as fast as was expected, many good shots were played and some good tennis was shown. Miss Hulet and Steiger had no difficulty in winning.

The best match of the tourney is expected this afternoon when the winners of this morning meet Ora May Condon and Wm. Mapel in the finals. This match is scheduled for 3:30 and will be refereed by Miss MacLeod.

The match this afternoon ends the tournament and since both the teams are Eurekans the tournament goes to them. Since the Excelsiors were eliminated in the first round and the Philos weathered thru the preliminaries, third place goes to them. The two Eurekan teams will fight it out for first and second places.

DR. CLEMENTS IS ELECTED HEAD OF COMMITTEE

Don McVey Also Wanted to be Chairman—Clements Will Succeed Hughes, Who Resigned.

Jefferson City, May 5.—Dr. E. B. Clements of Macon was elected unanimously as chairman of the Republican State Committee at a meeting here yesterday to succeed J. G. Hughes, state bank commissioner. Before the meeting of the committee, several conferences were held between committee members and state leaders, but the choice of Clements by Hyde forces resulted in a battle between the Governor and Don C. McVey, his primary campaign manager and fellow townsman of Trenton, who wanted the job.

McVey declared the Governor has "thrown" him for Clements and that he was "through with the Governor forever."

McVey was favored by a considerable number of committee members who objected to Clements principally because he comes from the same town, Macon, as the present chairman, John G. Hughes. McVey supporters declare that party control is being centered too much in one part of the state, and that if Clements is elected it virtually would leave Hughes in control.

S. E. Roberts, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at Stanberry, and Guy Harden of that town, were in Maryville today.

Violence Versus Velvet!

Every mile traveled by a hammering poppet-valve motor marks the ebbing tide of efficiency. Every mile traveled by a sliding Sleeve-Valve Willys-Knight Motor marks the rising tide of power.

One is the efficiency of violence, the other is the velvet of efficiency; one is depleted by distance, the other grows cumulatively finer and fleeter the farther it runs, uses less fuel, conserves tires, needs only negligible adjustment at long intervals, generates more energy than it exhausts, and is at the peak of its efficiency at 50,000 miles.

NODAWAY SCHOOLS GET A WRITE-UP

THE WEEKLY KANSAS CITY STAR HAS AN ARTICLE.

LESSONS AT OWN HOMES

Every Day Problems of Country Life Add Zest to the Work in Nodaway Rural Schools.

The Weekly Kansas City Star this week contained a write-up of the Nodaway county schools. Pictures of how a school works practical problems were shown. The article in full is as follows:

Eat too much.
Sleep with windows closed.
Keep irregular hours.
Spit on the floor.
Leave poison around.
Light fires with kerosene.
Leave children locked in the house.
Do without things we could have.
Fear, fret, gossip, complain, envy, grouch, suspect and act selfish.

—A list of "Fool Things We Do," prepared by pupils of a Nodaway county school.

Parents were tolerant but not interested four years ago, when a new system of teaching agriculture in five Nodaway county rural schools was announced. They recalled previous systems of teaching the subject.

School began. Unusual questions by children at home followed. The questions, the children said, were to be answered as part of the next day's lesson. Still the parents declined to become excited over the new system. But the questions increased. They were questions, not about farming, but about the individual farm on which the pupil lived, the crops it grew, the livestock kept, the equipment used.

Then, one day, each student in the upper four grades requested carpenter tools and material with which to make a nail box. That touched off the dynamite in a number of homes.

A Father Called a Halt.

One father decided it was time to stop the foolishness. He was well to do and influential. His son took no boards nor tools to school. Ashamed, he confessed to the teacher and his associates that his father wouldn't let him have material for a box.

That was fortunate, the teacher indicated, because the boys and girls who had been supplied needed someone to help them. The well-to-do-farmer's son helped the other pupils that day.

Next morning there were sounds within the schoolroom when the teacher arrived. A window was open. The son of the well-to-do farmer had arrived at 7 o'clock and was making a nail box. The lumber seemed to have been in use. Questioning revealed the boy had taken it off the side of the chicken house.

The nail box was completed that day. Returning home, the pupil was asked about the board, told what had occurred and said the teacher had said his nail box was the best made at the school. His son's excellence won the father.

A Breakdown at Haying Time.

The following summer, in another district, the rope on the hayfork broke while the haying rush was on. A trip to town meant the waste of a lot of sunshine, something none too plentiful in the haying season, while the haying crew was idle. The cost of an new rope also was worthy of consideration.

A 12-year-old daughter of the farmer had been studying agriculture as taught under the new system. She spliced the rope so it would run through the pulley, something no man on the job could do, and within half an hour haying operations were resumed. The splice knot used was only one of twenty-five knots that girl had been taught to make at school.

There were many such incidents. But the next year there were sixteen such schools. The next year there were thirty-five, the year closing there were seventy. Next year there will be a hundred. Two years more are expected to put the entire county under the new system, according to Bert Cooper, county superintendent.

A Reason for the Books.

The agriculture studied is not found in text books, but text books are used more than ever before. More such books are used. But the children have a definite motive every time the books or bulletins are referred to.

In the study of livestock the fine herds are visited and the owner himself unknowingly becomes the teacher. What breeder is therewith so little vision he can't see the business possibilities in showing his stock to from eighteen to thirty boys and girls, who, in ten years, will be the farmers and the farm wives. There may be such breeders. But they are not in Nodaway county. And so the breeder of fine Herefords tells children why he prefers Herefords. The Shorthorn and Angus breeders do the same. Each man points out the qualifications that makes this a better bull that that, this calf worth thousands of dollars while that one is worth a hundred. Hog men do the same. So do the sheep men.

A Combination of Lessons.

The day following one of these visits the lesson in agriculture is to put into notebooks, the result of the trip, what happened, what conclusions were drawn and why. These written accounts are read. That is the reading lesson. They are criticized. The best one is chosen by the class. And the lesson is not soon forgotten.

In some way the matter of feed creeps into the class discussion in the study of livestock. The pupils find out the quantity of feed given night and morning. Then comes the question of how long the feed will last. Eventually that sends pupils to the text books to learn how to compute the amount of feed in cribs and stacks. There, of course, is the arithmetic lesson.

In the school year devoted to "making things," the pupils built, first of course, their workbench. That was to stay at school. The other articles made were to take home. They included knife and fork boxes, knife racks, nail boxes, tool boxes, ventilator boards, window braces by which the window might be raised or lowered to any desired height, self-feeders for pigs, benches, kitchen doilies, used by farm women for many purposes, calendar card boards containing a small calendar, pegs and holes for accounting, a memorandum pad and a hook for current bills.

Thus practical knowledge is imparted on practical subjects. And so Nodaway county, which long has excelled in things agricultural, now excels in teaching its children about those things.

Like Zane Grey?

Zane Grey's newest story is called To the Last Man. They say it's the best he has ever written. Later it will be made into a book to sell for about $2.00. But I'm not going to wait for the book, I'll read it first in

The COUNTRY GENTLEMAN

You can, too. Zane Grey's best stories appear first in the Great National Farm Weekly. Remember The Desert of Wheat? Wildfire? The Mysterious Rider? They were Country Gentleman stories first, all of them; only later were they made into books.

To the Last Man is the real two-fisted stuff, I'm told. Zane Grey went down into the Arizona hills and got this dramatic romance of faithful love and fearless adventure from folks who were actual eye-witnesses of the terrible feuds between the early sheep-herders and cattlemen. This personal contact enables him to write into the story a rugged realism that grips you from the first page. I wouldn't miss it for two dollars. And—get this—you can have a whole year of Country Gentleman service, including the fifteen parts of To the Last Man, for just one of your dollars, sent me today.
